

REOPENING RI

Beach Guidance

RHODE ISLAND

If available, pre-order food online or by phone from concession stands.

Practice safe sun and safe swimming guidance.

Limit the people in your group to the number recommended by the Department of Health and make sure your group is at least six feet from other groups.

Practice social distancing: Stay at least six feet from others, even in the water (unless you live in the same house).

Do not wear a face covering while swimming or playing in the water.

Wear a face covering when you can't be at least six feet from others (e.g., in parking lots, on boardwalks, while waiting in line).

Avoid crowded beaches. Parking and attendance may be limited to prevent overcrowding.

If offered, choose cashless payment options to pay for entry.

Bring hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol in case soap and water are not available.

Know before you go: Check with individual beaches to see if concession stands and bathrooms are open.

Listen for loudspeaker announcements that provide timely updates and important safety reminders.

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.

